Many Killed.
He saw on the lower end, the river banks strewn with household furniture of fishermen but most of the families had escaped from the high water by taking to the lugger rigged boats.
Boats Wrecked.

ARE REWARDED FOR BRAVE ACTS

THE GRANDDAUGHTER OF JAMES PLANTZ OF THIS CITY.

GIVEN CARNEGIE MEDAL

Rescue of Miss Blanche Bennison from Drowning in February, 1905, is at Last Rewarded.

Miss Blanche Bennison, daughter of President Samuel Plantz of Lawrence University and granddaughter of James Plantz of this city, and Irwin Church of Menominee Falls, a recent graduate of Lawrence University, has been awarded Carnegie Medals for the rescue of Miss Blanche Bennison from drowning in the Fox River on Feb. 20, 1905. Word to this effect was received this morning and was communicated to President Samuel Plantz by a Gazette representative this noon. Dr. Plantz is at present the guest of his father, James Plantz, on South Bluff street and is in attendance at the Methodist Conference. Dr. Plantz was more than surprised and related the occurrence which led to the awarding of the medal.

Story of Rescue.
"This is the first intimation that such a thing was even in contemplation. The day the accident occurred my daughter was standing near the bank of the river when Miss Bennison and a girl companion, Beula Hubbs of Lake Mills, coasted down the hill on a bob belonging to eleven-year-old Norman Bokow. They went out onto the ice and broke through. My daughter, who was then fourteen, hastened to their aid and had succeeded in pulling the Bokow boy to the shore and was helping one of the girls when the thin ice broke and the three girls were thrown into the icy water. Irwin Church, a student at the University, was nearby and heard their cries and by great energy succeeded in drawing the girls into shallow water, almost prostrating himself. It was a brave act on his part and I am more than pleased my daughter and he have been honored by being the recipients of Carnegie Medals."

Mr. Bennison's Story.
T. E. Bennison added a few details to the above story by stating that Mr. Church was forced to risk his life in saving his daughter, Miss Blanche, being forced to swim out into the icy water to catch her just as she was going down. Mr. Bennison himself personally showed his appreciation of Mr. Church's brave act by a present of some magnitude, which he had difficulty in making him accept. Miss Plantz is a freshman in the University this year and Mr. Church is in business in Menominee Falls.

MILWAUKEE CHOSEN FOR OPENING SPEECH

John A. Aylward Will Begin His Assault Upon Republicanism in That City.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Sept. 28.—John A. Aylward of Madison, democratic nominee for governor of Wisconsin, will make his opening campaign speech in Milwaukee soon. He declares that past majorities in this state in favor of republicanism have counted for nothing in this fight, and he professes a great confidence in his ability to persuade a sufficient number of voters that he ought to be placed in the executive office. He is a young attorney of this place and a man of much eloquence as a speaker. He will make a vigorous campaign all over the state, speaking in favor of control of corporations, reduction of the tariff and cutting down of administrative expenditures. He charges the republicans in this state with gross extravagance.

MADISON PARENTS ON THE WAR PATH

School Board Would Do Away with Any Fraternities in Public Schools.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Sept. 28.—While Universities of Wisconsin Greeks are "rushing" for the pick of the sons and daughters of the well-to-do as members of their organizations, "rushing" is suspended in the Madison high school, owing to war declared by the board of education against these Greek letter secret societies. The board has sent a circular letter to the parents of each high school student soliciting assistance in the fight to eliminate the trait. It is declared that educators are unanimous in the opinion that fraternities and other secret societies are harmful to the schools, that they are undemocratic and tend to undermine the spirit of community that should prevail in the common schools of this free country. The board has made the rule that they shall hold no meeting in the city buildings, that no member of a fraternity shall be given public honor as a representative of the school, barring such from eligibility for any class, scholastic, literary or athletic honors. Membership of the fraternities represents many of the leading and richest families in Madison, and the parents of these are formulating a demand that the board of education back up or the matter will be carried into the courts. It is believed by the Greeks that, as was the case in Chicago, litigation would establish the right of students to be members of such organizations and be saved free from hardship or persecution from the school authorities by reason of such membership.

ESCAPE UNSCATHED FROM AWFUL WRECK IN MINNESOTA TOWN

Philip Koch of 407 South Jackson Street Sat in Seat with Man
That Was Killed.

Mrs. Philip Koch of 407 South Jackson street yesterday afternoon received a letter from her husband announcing his wonderful escape from a terrible railway wreck at New Prague, Minn. The epistle said Mr. Koch was riding in a train that was derailed and demolished in a head-on collision. Five men were killed and several others seriously injured, while many were hurt and one of the dead men occupied a seat in the forward car with the Janesville man. Mr. Koch was severely shaken up, but sustained no severe injury. It was a most miraculous escape and despite the assurances of his safety his family and friends are anxiously awaiting his return. He is expected early next week. This is Mr. Koch's second narrow escape from death, having been one of the occupants of the Lincoln hotel, Chicago, on the night of its destruction by fire several years ago when the late Mat Fardy was killed.

cial Straights—President is Great excitement prevails. The president of the bank, E. C. Fox, is absent from town. Buy it in Janesville.

FUSION TICKET IN PENNSYLVANIA HAS HOPES OF VICTORY

Lincoln Republicans and Democrats May Down Quay Machine—National Politics Mixed.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 28.—Pennsylvania's unique campaign is now on in earnest and it is proving fully as exciting as was forecasted earlier in the summer. The managers of the regular republican organization are using every effort to inject as much national politics into the contest as possible. "Stand by Roosevelt" and "Stand by the Tariff" are the rallying cries. Outside speakers are being urged to come into the state with the hope that the contest may be nationalized as much as possible. Speaker Cannon and several other leaders of national prominence have consented to visit the state, but they will confine their speech-making to the close congressional districts.

The Lincoln republicans and the democrats who have joined in a fusion ticket, declare that it is purely a state fight, and say that the effort of the regular republicans to introduce national questions is for the purpose of diverting the attention of the voters from the real issue, which is, "Shall the state organization formed by Quay and passed down to Penrose be permitted to control the politics of the state?"
Opinions differ as to what the outcome will be. The Lincoln republicans and the democrats won a notable victory in Philadelphia last fall and they hope to duplicate that victory in the state this year. But they are not as harmonious now as they were in the local campaign last year and some close observers doubt if they can carry the state. Nevertheless, it is an exceedingly interesting fight.
Each side wants it to appear that President Roosevelt is in sympathy with it. The President is to visit the state next week, going first to Harrisburg to attend the dedication of the new state capitol and then to York to attend a county fair. So far he has remained strictly neutral in the fight and it is regarded as unlikely that he will touch upon politics in his addresses in the state next week.

INSANE EMPRESS CARLOTTA NOT DEAD, BUT VERY SICK

King Leopold Denies Rumors Of Passing Of Sister And Widow Of Ill Fated Emperor Maximilian.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Brussels, Sept. 28.—King Leopold has made haste to deny the reports that have been current for several weeks regarding the alleged death of his sister, the insane Empress Carlotta, widow of the ill-fated Emperor Maximilian of Mexico. Though some persons do not hesitate to cast doubt upon his majesty's denials it may be stated authoritatively that the empress is not dead. But she is so ill just now that only faint hopes are entertained of her recovery.
The story of the poor, insane empress has often been told, but the tragedy of her life is so interwoven with one of the most thrilling chapters of New World history that it will bear a repetition at the present time, when it is but a matter of a short time, perhaps of days, until her earthly miseries are relieved by death.
Born a princess, and educated to wear a crown, Carlotta has passed forty of her sixty-five years within the walls of an asylum for the insane. Married at 17, a queen at 24 and a lunatic at 26, she was bereft of father, husband, empire and reason in the short space of eighteen months, and then, by the irony of fate, forever banished from human memory. Her career was almost kinetoscopic in the rapidity of its changes—promising in its inception, magnificent in its rise, pathetic, dramatic, tragic in its decline and fall.
Although Carlotta was more potential in Mexican history during her short reign in that country than was her imperial husband himself, the records of that time ignore her efforts, belittle her achievements and refer to her endowments of executive ability, political sagacity, mental culture and strong womanly character in the most impersonal and incidental manner. As a matter of fact it was her regal training, her dominant spirit, her constant insistence, which prevailed over the weak, vacillating, easily influenced and almost effeminate character of the Emperor Maximilian.
Carlotta was exactly 24 years of age, Maximilian 32, when their eyes beheld for the first time the land across the water where they hoped to regenerate a nation. Their entry into the City of Mexico was a triumphal one. The splendors of their court were unprecedented, for Carlotta knew well how to be an Empress.
Spacious grounds surround the palace and here the insane empress drives about frequently in her coach of state, with her cavaliers in attendance. Here, too, she sometimes wanders among the flowers, planning improvements, as she did about the grounds of Chantilly, in Mexico. King Leopold has reason to hope that the life of his sister will be prolonged and that she will not succumb to her present illness, for her death will give rise to no end of complication with the reigning house of Austria, in consequence of the disappearance of her vast fortune, which is believed to have been wasted in its entirety in the Congo schemes of her brother, guardian and trustee, King Leopold.

CIVIL SERVICE MADE A COMPLETE FARCE

Employees Can Be Dropped At Will
According To Attorney General.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Sept. 28.—Appointing officers in the state government may remove employees at their pleasure, and the civil service commission is practically powerless to prevent it, nor can the commission hold hearings to determine the facts in relation to a dismissal. All that is necessary for an appointing officer to do in order to rid himself of an undesirable employee, is to file with the civil service commission a statement setting forth that the employee is dismissed for sufficient reasons other than political or religious. If these reasons, on their face, are sufficient, the dismissed employee has no recourse through the commission, but will have to bring mandamus action in the courts. This is the effect of the civil service law as set forth in an official opinion by Attorney General Surdant in reply to a request from E. F. Doty, secretary of the civil service commission. The request came about by reason of the inquiries that were made to the commission by employees and by present and prospective appointing officers as to the power of appointing officers to make removals, and as to the rights of the employees so removed to protest and as to the power, or duty, of the civil service commission to hear such controversies and determine the facts and act thereon.

MUCH SPIRIT SHOWN BY FOOTBALL MEN

University Team May Amount To Something After All This Year.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 28.—Two score of football candidates are out to try for places on the University of Wisconsin eleven this year and although the material in general is unusually light, Dr. C. P. Hutchins, director and coach, is encouraged with the prospect of developing a machine that will make a creditable showing. Only three members of the regular team of last season are back, being Gelbach, captain, who weighs 201 pounds, and plays guard; Johnson, tackle, 186; and Floyd Clark, fullback, 173 pounds. Most of the other leading candidates were members of last year's intercollegiate championship freshman team. Among them are Steinhilber, guard, 183; Wright, quarterback, 159; Messmer, fullback, 175; Foley, guard, 177; Sundry, tackle, 172; Rogers, end, 166; Roy, halfback, 161; and Howard, tackle, 168. The lack of weight does not, however, concern the coach, for the purpose is to make speed and shiftness his strong points, and Wisconsin's schedule is not so hard as to require the beef that has been necessary heretofore. The first game of the schedule is that with Lawrence university, two weeks from Saturday.
The Rev. F. J. Litgen of Madison has been elected vice secretary of the twenty-seventh annual session of Swedish Baptists at Chicago.

TAXED CAPACITY
OF NEW CHURCH

NEARLY TWO THOUSAND PEOP-LE HEARD BISHOP McCABE.

BRIGHTER SIDE OF LIBBY

Speaker Was a Chaplain and His Confirmation Was Breach of International War Rules.

Over eight hundred people were present at the new Cargill Memorial church last night to hear Bishop Mc-Cabe deliver his famous lecture on "The Brighter Side of Libby Prison."
 The bishop was introduced by Rev. J.
 H. Tippet and began the lecture by singing "We're Coming Father Abraham." This was so enthusiastically encouraged that he also sang "The Sword of Bunker Hill." He prefaced his lecture by speaking of the greatness of the American Republic as an indirect result of the Civil War and the impossibility of appreciating the magnitude of the struggle on the part of those who were not in it.
 "I was Chaplain of the first regiment in the war, the One Hundred and Twenty-second Ohio.
 When we started out we had nine hundred and seventy enrolled. Of these five hundred and eighty-three were killed and two hundred and eighty died from disease and exposure. They were of all ages from sixteen upwards. When Lee started northward we were at Winchester and when after a sharp fight our men cut their way out, the surgeon and myself remained on the field taking care of the wounded. Contrary to the usual custom we were both taken to Richmond and confined in Libby Prison.

The Wholesale Escape.
 "When we reached the prison we were searched and all the money I had was taken from me. One man, a New York colonel, concealed about $700 about his person and thus got into the prison with it. I know, because I borrowed most of it." He then described the escape of a hundred and ten men in one night through the famous tunnel and spoke of the feelings of those following when a big German was stuck in the tunnel. "Imagine yourself with Libby prison behind you, liberty in front and nothing but a fat Dutchman in the way."

Amusements at Libby.
 Bishop McCabe told of the French classes started by the forty lawyers there, of the concerts the prisoners gave on every possible occasion, of the Confederate officer in charge who put up three bathtubs for six hundred men. He told of the two men who were chosen for execution as an act of reprisal for the hanging of two Confederate spies, and of their escape from death when Lincoln ordered two captured officers high in the Confederate army to be killed in turn if the two men in Libby prison were killed. He told of the rejoicing of the prisoners when the news of Gettysburg and Vicksburg came. Then he spoke of his sickness in the prison and of his final return to the north in the fall of 1863.

Interesting Anecdotes.
 His lecture was filled with little anecdotes of his experiences and the experiences of others in the prison, both ludicrous and sad. His quick changes from the humorous to sorrowful carried the audience with him and brought clearly before their minds the pleasures and pains and struggles of those who suffered for their country in our great struggle for unity.

Do Your Meals Fit?

Do You Feel Snug and Comfortable Around Your Waist Line?
 After a Hearty Meal?

Did your last meal taste deliciously good to you, and did you eat all you wanted? Could you have patted your roly-poly in glee and felt proud of your appetite and of your good strong stomach? Do you feel rosy now because your last meal gave you no inconvenience whatever? If not you have dyspepsia in some form, and probably never realized it.

If you have the least trouble in your stomach after eating, no matter how little, or how much you eat, there is trouble brewing and you must correct it at once.

Most all stomach troubles come from poor, weak, scanty gastric juice, that precious liquid which ought to turn your food into rich red blood.

If you have nausea, your gastric juice is weak. If you have sour rising or belchings your food is weak.
 If your gastric juice is weak, if you have loss of appetite, your gastric juice is weak. If you have a bloated feeling of aversion to food, your gastric juice is weak.

You need something in your stomach to supply the gastric juice which is scanty and to give power to the weak gastric juice. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do this very thing.

Now think—one grain of one of the ingredients of these wonderful little tablets—digest 3,000 grains of food.
 They are several times more powerful than the gastric juice in a good strong powerful stomach. They actually digest your food for you. Besides, they increase the flow of gastric juice just what you need to get all the good possible out of everything you eat. You will never have that "lump of lead" in your stomach nor any other stomach trouble after taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Then everything you eat will be digested, it will give you strength, vim, energy and a rosy disposition. You'll feel good all around your waist line after every meal and it will fit no matter what or when you eat.

We want to send you a sample package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets free of charge, so you can test them yourself and be convinced. After you have tried the sample, you will be so satisfied that you will go to the nearest drug-store and get a 50c box.

Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package free. Address reached. The suit was brought on the charge that the defendant sold milk below test and several witnesses for

VARSITY STUDENTS
CHURCH MEMBERS

Statistics in "The Biblical World" Show that Majority Are Professing Christians.

The time-worn argument originally brought forward over half a century ago when the state universities were established in the middle west, to the effect that they were "godless institutions," has again been completely rebutted by statistics compiled for "The Biblical World," in an article on "The Religious Situation in State Universities," published in that periodical. It is shown that over sixty per cent of the students in the state universities of the middle west are church members, and that about seventy per cent consider themselves church adher-ents. The percentage of church membership and church attendance in the state universities, "The Biblical World," points out, is higher than in the average community.

"By any legitimate test which can be applied," the article continues, "these university communities will be found to be more religious and generally Christian than the average community. The amount of attentance given to strictly religious matters is greater, per capita. The amount of genuine Christian work is greater in proportion to the population; and the evidences of the presence of Christian motives and of the Christian spirit are vastly more numerous."

Church Membership Increasing.
 The statistics show clearly a tendency in the direction of increase in the number of student church members. In one instance the church membership in the last five years has grown twelve per cent; in another it has grown over eleven per cent; in seven years. While the attendance in one institution in the past eight years increased 303 per cent, the membership of the Y. M. C. gained over 500 per cent, the attendance on its religious meetings more than 300 per cent, and upon its Bible classes more than 1,000 per cent.

Christian Associations Active.
 All of the state universities of the middle west have strong Young Men's and Young Women's Christian associations, which actively engage in religious and institutional work among the students. Last year over twenty per cent of all the young men students were members of the association, and many more not actively engaged in Bible readings and other religious activities. Over fifty per cent of the young women were members of the Young Women's Christian Association. In addition to these two societies, a number of the universities have separate organizations for Catholics and adherents of other beliefs who do not identify themselves with the Christian associations.

The students are a select class, but none the less representative. They are not young people who have exhibited intellectual or moral weaknesses and are therefore sent to college as a sort of intellectual or moral sanatorium; they are the best young men and women of the actual life of their communities, and though far from common, they are better than the average of the people of the communities, full of promise and possessing as a rule an unusual capacity for development.
 They are not exclusively from the rich, the poor, or those of moderate means; they represent all classes.
 Most religious denominations and every shade of political opinion and every economic creed is apt to appear in these cosmopolitan communities.

 Where can better material be found?
 Existing religious conditions in state universities are not such as to warrant any alarm on the part of religious people. On the contrary, they are as thoroughly wholesome as those of any community in the world where people of various ranks and classes mingle freely, and much more Christian than the average American community. The atmosphere of the state universities is pre-eminently Christian, bringing strong Christian influences to bear on students in a more tangible, genuine, and intense form than the communities from which the students come.

ACT I.—The contention. New York office. T. M. & N. railroad. Morning May 12.

ACT II.—The struggle. The Houston ranch. Morning of July 9.

ACT III.—The crisis. At the barbed wire fence line. Afternoon of following day.

ACT IV.—The adjustment. Sitting room of the Houston homestead.
 Morning of July 14.

It is the story of the love of the sole surviving representative of two families between which a vendetta had existed for years. Still further entangled in the enterprise of a railroad which sought to cross the land of an old farmer, the father of the woman in the case. The father dies, but his daughter carries on the war against the railroad while late designates her lover as the engineer to be placed in charge of the railroad's interests and of the work of constructing the line across his sweet-heart's property. How the cowboy fight in the interests of their mistress and jealousy incarnate in the form of the young girl's overseer nearly succeeds in killing the engineer and destroying his work are some of the exciting scenes of the third act.

At the end there is a reconciliation, of course, for the young man has spent the intervals when she has not been employed in nursing her sorely wounded sweetheart back to health and strength in pushing forward the work of construction on the railroad thereby saving not only his life but his reputation, and preserving the franchises of the railroad which were fast approaching the time limit.

Of course, Odette Tyler played the part, spirit, but not the accent of the southern girl. At times her work did not appear to be up to the standard and one would expect, but the fire and action of the production made up for any deficiencies. Miss Olive May, as Lily Belle Hazel, her girl chum, really captivated the audience by her bits of love-making, her vivacious manner, entirely contrasting to the earnestness required of Miss Tyler.

Orma Caldara as John Ashby, the engineer lover of Allene, had a strong part which was well played. Walter Thomas, as Billy Ball, was a foil for Lily Belle and H. S. Northrup as Harry Marshall, the ranch foreman, perhaps overdid his part a trifle, acting slightly stilted at times. J. C.
 Marlowe as Ki-Yote Jim was excellent throughout. George Woodward as Janus Harrington, the railroad president, was pompous enough for any corporation to hire. The rest of the cast was well taken. What makes the play successful is the stage settings, the action and the climaxes.
 Each act ends with a climax, thoroughly melodramatic. The play itself has been somewhat cut for the road production, but the cast is the same as appeared at the Garrick theatre, Chicago, with a few minor changes and is the same that will go to New York for a run. It is a typical western play and one that excites and keeps the interest of the audience.
 A return engagement after the New York run is a possibility.

Go to Madison: "The Love Route" company went to Madison this morning where their next performance is to be given.

3 COTTAGES AT DELAVAN
 These Cottages Are to be Built Before Next Spring—Other Business Matters.

At the meeting of the Wisconsin Conference Board of trustees, held Thursday at two p. m. in the pastors' study of the Cargill Memorial church, much business of importance was discussed and decided upon. One of the matters definitely decided upon was the erection of three modern cottages at Delavan for supernumeraries of the church to be ready next spring.
 These cottages are the result of the bequest of the late James Aram of Delavan who left twenty thousand dollars to the Wisconsin conference, ten thousand to be used for the purchase and erection of the home and ten thousand to be invested in good securities, the interest being used to maintain the home which was to be built at Delavan.

At the meeting of the board of trustees in Fond du Lac last April a committee on building was appointed and this reported yesterday that they had secured a beautiful location near the center of Delavan, three blocks from the Methodist church was made. The price paid for this property was twenty-five hundred dollars. The plan of erecting cottages in place of one large home, was also decided upon and the amount of cost of construction of three neat modern homes was found to be twenty-five hundred each. This brings the cost of the three homes inside the sum named, ten thousand. There is also room for another house on the plot of ground and the committee appointed last April, consisting of Judge N. C. Griffin and F. S. Moore of Fond du Lac, W. G. Weeks of Delavan, and Rev. J. H. Tippet of Janesville, hope to be able to announce shortly that the other twenty-five hundred dollars necessary for this purpose has been subscribed.

Model Homes.
 These cottages will be model homes, furnace heated, good plumbing and bath rooms and each will be furnished with a steel range, the tenants to supply their own furniture.
 The bids for the erection of these homes were opened yesterday and W.
 G. Weeks of Delavan was selected to supervise the building, assisted by F.
 S. Moore, a Fond du Lac lumberman.
 They are to be completed and ready for occupancy by June next.

Other Business.
 Other business accomplished by the trustees was the presentation of a set of memorial resolution on the death of the late treasurer, E. M. Beach, by Rev. Sabina Halsey. In his annual report Treasurer C. S. Gilbert of Wausau showed that the financial affairs of the conference were most flourishing and that the total amount of real estate and securities in possession of the conference was $46,022. C. S. Gilbert was re-elected trustee and Rev. Ernest Perry of Milwaukee was elected a member to fill a vacancy.

Officers Elected.
 The following officers were re-elected:
 President—Judge N. C. Griffin, Fond du Lac.
 Secretary—J. H. Tippet, Janesville.
 Treasurer—C. S. Gilbert, Wausau.
 The conference has parsonages at Oconomowoc and Sturgeon Bay, the one at the latter place being occupied by "Father" Lewis, the oldest preacher in the conference. "Father" Lewis is also present at the present conference.

Letter to Jerry Donahue, Janesville,

Dear Sir: Read what R. S. Brooks of Mt. Sterling, Ill. says about a paint job in his town.

Brooks sells Devco lead and zinc paint.

Edward Harper came into the store and picked out colors for painting his house. He said he needed 12 gallons for body and 5 gallons for trimmer; he based his estimate on the advice of a leading painter and another dealer who handles a brand of mixed paint.

Mr. Brooks took the dimensions of the house and said it could be done with 7 gallons for body and 2-1/2 gallons for trim, if he used Devco lead and zinc paint. Harper didn't believe it could be done; but he did it.
 9-12 gallons instead of 17.

Mr. Harper was so enthusiastic that he got a big Devco sign and put it up in a conspicuous place at his house.

Devco is certainly another name for paint economy.

Yours truly,
 E. W. DEVCO & CO.

"YORK STATE FOLKS" AT MYERS GRAND TOMORROW EVENING.

September 28, 1906—Four years ago today the house-tax dispute with foreigners in Japan was referred to arbitration. Find a foreigner.

..Forty Years Ago..

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, September 28, 1906—Theatre—A large and delighted audience attended at the Theatre last evening, and manifested their appreciation of the play by frequent and hearty plaudits. This evening is the great bill of the season, at which Miss Mitchell takes a benefit. The famous nautical drama of "Black-Eyed Susan, or All in the Downs" and Shakespeare's great comedy of "Taming a Shrew" will constitute the bill. Miss Mitchell and Mr. Albaugh taking the principal parts in both pieces, supported by the entire strength of the company. This is the last night but one of Miss Mitchell's engagement, and she deserves on this her benefit night a cordial greeting.

The Lecture—The lecture last evening before the Young Men's Association was a most auspicious commencement of the season, and the Association has done itself credit by procuring for its initiatory so gifted and talented a lecturer as Mr. Milburn. His delineations and descriptions of English character and scenery were humorous and interesting and truly instructive. He is a man of engaging appearance and dress, and as an orator must rank in the first class. His voice is sweet, musical, strong and capable of infinite variation. Those who staid away last evening, missed one of the richest of intellectual treats—a real feast of reason.

Welcome to the Loyal Southerners.—The committee appointed to invite the "Loyal Southerners" to Janesville will meet at Bennett & Norcross' office, this Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Prompt attendance is desired, as business of importance will come before the court.

NO HAZING AT WEST POINT

STUDENTS GIVEN CREDIT FOR COOPERATION.

Practice That Was Seriously Impairing Usefulness of Institution Has Been Stamped Out.

Washington, Sept. 28.—No more favorable report of the conditions at the military academy at West Point has been made in recent years to the war department than that of the board of visitors, of which Gen. Horace Porter was president.

In its report, the board says it desires "to express its unanimous opinion that the management of the academy, both in discipline and efficiency is of the highest order and an honor to those charged with its administration."

An interesting report is made by the special committee on instruction, discipline and hygiene, which states the conditions are very satisfactory. The committee says:

"The practice of hazing new cadets, at one time prevalent among the older students of the academy, has been effectually stamped out, and we have been informed that no instance of real hazing has come to the attention of the academy authorities during the last three years, or since effective measures were employed for its abolition."

"This excellent state of discipline could only have resulted from the hearty cooperation of the student body when once it had brought to its attention the fact that the hazing practice, as carried on, was seriously impairing the usefulness of the institution."

"The esprit du corps and high code of honor prevalent in the cadet ranks were never more satisfactory than at the present time, and that hazing no longer exists here must be very largely attributed to this gratifying status among the students themselves."

"Athletics at the academy have attained a very high degree of excellence, and the wisdom of the authorities in so amending the rule as to require gymnasium work of cadets in all classes has already been demonstrated after only a year's trial and will be further confirmed with each recurring session. The determination of the authorities from the very beginning not to allow athletics to encroach upon regular academic work, is wise and insures to the students all the benefits that result from pure and wholesome exercises, while at the same time avoiding all the evil consequences that too often result in institutions where athletics are accorded excessive prominence."

WHAT WILL BE DONE?

This is the question being asked all over the city concerning what action the council will take on the intorban franchise next Monday night. It is difficult to find an alderman who will admit that he is not in favor of a franchise, but the particular franchise which Mr. Clough desires seems to be the bone of contention.

While Mr. Clough has suggested that in some minor details this might be modified, yet he has stated most emphatically that in order to interest capital in the road the main features must be preserved.

This is the situation and unless the council is willing to meet it the enterprise will doubtless be abandoned.

The suggestion has been made that a mass-meeting be called for Monday night for the purpose of strengthening the hands of the council through an expression of public sentiment.

This would be a wise thing to do. The aldermen recognize the fact that they are the people's representatives and they would not feel warranted in opposing their wishes. When fully convinced that a large majority of the taxpayers are in favor of granting the franchise practically as published they will vote for it. Nothing should be left undone to satisfy the council on this point. Let the question be fully discussed at a mass-meeting and adopt resolutions that will warrant the council in taking prompt and favorable action.

THE FUTURE OF CUBA

Eight years of independence under the wise protectorate of the United States has accomplished much for Cuba. The island is no longer a plague spot, and evidences of thrift and enterprise are apparent on every hand, yet the little republic today is in the throes of insurrection, and an effort is now being made to save her from self-destruction.

Capital from the old world as well as from the United States has invested freely, contributing largely to the prosperity enjoyed. The investors had confidence in the honesty and ability of the men in control and believed that independence would be so thoroughly appreciated that strife and discord could not gain a foothold, but in this they are disappointed, and America is called upon to exercise authority as a protectorate.

Just what the outcome will be time alone can determine. If President Palma and his cabinet are permitted to serve out their term of office peace may be restored for a time, but with a new election will come new complications and another rebellion.

The people of Cuba are not capable of self-government and especially when they are responsible for the great interests entrusted to them.

"How much this interest amounts to," says the Wall Street Journal, "may be appreciated from the fact that the trade of the island, carried in vessels to and from foreign countries, yields annually $16,000,000 in freight charges. Havana alone has a trade worth $105,000,000 annually, and Cienfuegos one of $19,365,000. The sugar freight of four provinces traversed by the leading railroads was estimated in 1905-'06 at 7,764,800 bags, to yield an estimate freight of $3,093,620. The total British investments in railroads is estimated at $90,000,000, shipping under that flag has $5,000,000 at stake, and $5,000,000 more in real estate and industries, making a total of $100,000,000 invested, against $120,000,000 of holdings by citizens of the United States.

"No mention is made of the Spanish interests, or of German, or French investments. But the insurgent leaders seem to be no respecters of nations. They will ride to the headquarters of a sugar estate where the American flag is flying, salute the flag, and call for the surrender of arms, ammunition, mules, oxen and men. With such people it is hard to deal except in the straightforward way which may yet be necessary.

"Capitalists have been led to make investments in Cuba with the understanding that peace was to be preserved. The biggest stake at issue now is the sugar crop of something near 1,200,000 tons. Practically all of this enters into the United States imports. The crop is now at that stage at which it must suffer either from the absence of labor to harvest it or at the incendiary hand of the insurgent. Unless some basis of agreement is reached at an early date the sugar trade may as well charge 1,000,000 tons of sugar to profit and loss account. The effect of such a result would be very pronounced from the future of investments in Cuba. No sane capitalist would risk much between the nether millstone of a paralyzed government and the upper millstone of guerrilla malcontents, whose leaders respect the rights of no one except their own love of conflict.

The United States is morally bound to protect these interests as well as to protect the Cubans from themselves, and this will be done if it becomes necessary to place the island under military rule until annexation can be effected.

THE NEW ALIGNMENT

Governor Davidson and W. D. Connor are in control as party leaders today because the republican party throughout the state had become weary of one-man power, and would no longer be influenced by the voice of the dictator.

Their success means more than the success of a faction, for while the conservative element of the party was in the background this element represented the balance of power and loyal support was given to the men who won out.

This means that the party is reunited and the new alignment has been brought about without effort or friction. It means more than this, for in its broader significance it means that republicanism will succeed La Folletteism, a condition which has long been desirable.

When the ticket is elected in November the administration will have back of it a united party and the capitol will again become the heritage of the people. There are thousands of republicans in the state who have kept away from the statehouse for the past half dozen years because their presence excited suspicion, and they were given to understand that the executive chamber was a sacred precinct where intruders were not wanted.

No man understands those conditions better than Governor Davidson, and it is gratifying to know that they no longer exist. The people of Wisconsin are not a quarrelsome people, neither are they consumed by corruption. The pride of the commonwealth for years was its conservatism and hard common sense.

The state has been prosperous because of its thrift and energy in developing its diversified industries and while internal strife has been needlessly engendered the cause has been removed and the same people are here to join hands for mutual happiness and prosperity.

The advance ground occupied may be of doubtful importance, as it is yet in the experimental stage, but there is no doubt as to the outcome of the new alignment. It means the end of family and neighborhood feuds and also of internal strife. Harmony all along the line is the watchword, and the party is to be congratulated.

A Chicago Methodist church made itself notorious the other day by dedicating a child to the cause of organized labor. It was possibly the same church that invited Debs to occupy the pulpit the day after he was released from the Woodstock jail. Bishop McCabe might put in a little missionary work to advantage in the Windy City.

A man who can find the "sunny side of Libby prison" possesses a sunny disposition. This is one of the characteristics which has contributed so largely to Bishop McCabe's popularity. Such men never grow old.

The Methodist conference now in session at the Cargill Memorial church is one of the many conferences scattered over the world, representing one of the largest Christian denominations in existence.

The home for worn-out Methodist preachers to be built at Delavan is a most worthy philanthropy, and the enterprise should be heartily supported by Wisconsin Methodists.

It takes a wise man to recognize when he approaches the zenith power, and a wiser one to know what to do when he gets there.

There are no more halfbreeds and stalwarts, but an oldtime army of republicans. The success of the ticket is already assured.

Hearst won out in New York and the chances for a love feast between that gentleman and Bryan are not flattering.

SALVATION LIES IN THE SCHOOLS

EDUCATED NEGROES DO NOT COMMIT HEINOUS CRIMES.

ARE STARTLING STATEMENTS

Out of Twelve Thousand Graduates No One Has Ever Been Convicted of Crime Against Woman.

Out of twelve thousand graduates of our southern schools for negroes not one has ever been convicted of a heinous crime against a woman. In my belief, the solution of the problem of the south and negroes lies in educating them.

Coming as it does at the end of the horrible days and nights just passed at Atlanta, Bishop McCabe's statement before the Methodist conference today is most interesting. Dr. M. B. C. Mason, corresponding secretary for the Freedman's Aid and Southern Educational Society, located at Cincinnati, had just made a stirring appeal to the members of the Wisconsin Conference, asking that they aid in the wonderful work of reclaiming the southern negro. He had explained the work of the society he represented and begged the pastors to make strenuous efforts to bring the collections up to the expectations and needs of the society. He had nearly completed his address when Bishop McCabe interrupted him with the opening statement.

Spoke Feelingly
Bishop McCabe spoke feelingly on the subject of the southern colored schools, and said: "Starting with $300 of borrowed money our southern schools today own $25,000 worth of school property in the south. This wonderful work is steadily growing and in my mind is the only solution for the salvation of the colored race in the south."

Other Speakers
Mr. Mason was one of the regular speakers before the Wisconsin Methodist Episcopal church conference this morning and among other things he said: "One of every five dollars contributed by Methodists toward the extension and support of Christianity comes from the colored Methodists, from a race that forty years ago did not own the clothes that protected them. Among other speakers were Miss Dennis E. Smith, who represented the deaconesses of the conference; Rev. T. M. Hare of Milwaukee, President of the Wisconsin Anti-Slavery League; and H. A. Larson, an officer of the Independent Order of Good Templars.

Memorial Services
Memorial services were held at ten o'clock this morning and obituaries of deceased members of the conference or of deceased wives of members were read. Rev. E. G. Clements paid tribute to the late Mrs. J. B. Cooper, Rev. C. W. Boag to the late Mrs. Thomas Potter, Dr. M. S. Terry to the late L. L. Knox, Rev. W. V. Stevens to Mrs. George S. Hubbs, Rev. James Churm to Henry Sewall, and Rev. R. S. Bosworth read the obituary of the late Wesley Lattin, which had been prepared by Rev. Charles James of the Missouri conference.

New Pastors Admitted
The following were admitted as members of the conference: Forest H. Woodside, Edwin A. Polley, Harvey J. Wood, August E. Hasse, John W. Perry, J. W. Saylor, Frank C. Pedley and William E. Coffman. The last named is from the Pennsylvania conference, while the others are either former members on trial or students of some theological college. Forest H. Woodside is well known in Janesville. He is the son of the late W. W. Woodside, one time a Methodist pastor in the city, and a graduate of the Janesville high school.

Licenses for deaconesses were renewed to the following: Bertha P. Kinney, Isabelle C. Leitch, Emma M. Antrim, Sara Silva Wood, Meda P. Robertson, Jessie E. Douglas, Evangeline L. Grube, Mary C. Powell, Dennis E. Smith.

Charges Will Be Made
The list of appointments for the year will be read at the Sunday evening service. Several places, it is known, will have changes. Among these are Beloit, Delavan, Sharon, Whitewater and Brandon. Rev. J. Wells has occupied the pulpit at Brandon for three years and the record he has established is enviable. The church conference there requested his return, but the bishop has decided to promote him to a larger congregation. Rev. Mr. Minn, it is thought, will be the next pastor at Delavan. Montello is another city that will probably lose her present pastor. Rev. Mr. Kern has been there two years and is one of the brightest members of the conference, young in the ministry. He was formerly a lawyer before the Illinois bar. John Lugg, who has been at Whitewater, one of the best charges in the state, has left the ministry, surrendering his certificate. He will locate at Whitewater, where it is said he will engage in the jewelry business. Mr. Lugg is a Janesville boy and learned the jewelry business in the store of Hall & Webb, now Hall & Sayles.

Aged Pastor Here
One of the most conspicuous figures at the conference, not considering the officers and speakers, is Rev. David Lewis of Sturgeon Bay. He is one of the pioneer Methodist preachers of Wisconsin, and by reason of his long membership to the state conference is probably one of the best known. He attends every session and sits in the front pew, listening attentively with the aid of an ear trumpet. Mr. Lewis is ninety-one years old and for forty years has not missed a single session of the conference. He commenced his services when the state was young and opened up many new missions. He was on one of the largest circuits of Wisconsin in 1842, traveling through the forests from Milwaukee to Sheboygan, Sheboygan Falls, Port Washington and Manitowish. He had many backwoods experiences and the hardships that he endured early undermined his health. Upon this falling, he was made a superannuated member of the conference and since has resided with his wife at Sturgeon Bay, occupying a house owned by the conference. Among the visitors at the conference are A. J. Benjamin, editor of the Wisconsin Advocate, the Methodist paper of the Wisconsin conference, and Editor Weeks of the Delavan Republican.

Three Anniversaries
Three excellent speakers were heard at the conference this afternoon. The speaker for the Sunday school anniversary at two o'clock was Rev. A. P. George, D. D., of New York City. Rev. Mr. Mason spoke again, delivering the address at the Freedman's Aid Anniversary at three o'clock, and Rev. W. W. Wentworth, J. Stewart, gave another address on Evangelism at four. This evening the educational anniversary will be held. Dr. Sannel Plantz, President of Lawrence University, and Dr. Anderson of New York City will be the principal speakers.

Temperance Anniversary
Tomorrow evening a temperance anniversary will be held. Rev. Dr. Eaton, the prohibition candidate for governor, will be the speaker and he brings with him one of the finest church singers in the country. Tomorrow's program follows:

MORNING SESSION
8:30—Devotional services, led by Bishop Charles C. McCabe.

IF YOU WANT

With Edged Tools

By HENRY SETON MERRIMAN Author of "The Sowers," "Roderic's Corner," "From One Generation to Another," Etc.

Copyright, 1904, by HARPER & BROTHERS

"I never should have got better if you had not come," he said. Then suddenly he seemed to recall himself, and rose with an effort from his recumbent position.

"I do not know," he said with a return of his old half-humorous manner, "whether to thank you first for your hospitality or to beg your pardon for making such unscrupulous use of it."

"Sit down," she said quietly. "You are not strong enough to stand about. He obeyed her with a little laugh.

"You do not know," he said, "how pleasant it is to see you, fresh and English-looking. It is like a tonic. Where is Maurice?"

"He will be here soon," she replied. "He is attending to the loading of the stores. We will soon make you strong and well, for we have come laden with cases of delicacies for your special delectation. Your father chose them himself."

"We did not expect you for another ten days," said Meredith after a little pause, as if anxious to change the subject. "Marie said that your brother's leave was not up until the week after next."

"We do not always take our full term," said she vaguely. "And he never saw it."

"As a matter of fact," she said lightly, "I suppose that you locate all food?"

"Loathe it," he replied. He was still looking at her, as if in enjoyment of the Englishness and freshness of which he had spoken. "Simply loathe it. All Joseph's tact and patience are required to make me eat even eleven meals in the day. He would like thirteen."

At this moment Maurice came in. Maurice, hearty, eager, full of life. He blustered in, kicking the furniture, throwing his own vitality into the atmosphere. Jocelyn knew that he liked Jack Meredith, and she knew more. She knew, namely, that Maurice Gordon was a different man when Jack Meredith was in Loango. From Meredith's presence he seemed to gather a sense of security and comfort even as she did—a sense which in herself she understood (for women analyze love) but which in her brother puzzled her.

"Well, old chap," said Maurice, "glad to see you. I am glad to see you. Thank heaven you were bowled over by that confounded malaria, for otherwise we should have missed you."

"That is one way of looking at it," answered Meredith. But he did not go so far as to say that it was a way which had not previously suggested itself to him.

"Of course it is. The best way, I take it. Well, how do you feel?"

"Oh, much better, thanks. I have got on splendidly the last week, and better still the last five minutes! The worst of it is that I shall be getting well too soon and shall have to be off."

"Home?" inquired Maurice significantly. Jocelyn moved uneasily.

"Yes, home."

"We don't often hear people say that they are sorry to leave Loango," said Maurice.

"I will oblige you whenever you are taken with the desire," answered Jack lightly. "Loango has been a very good friend to me. But I am afraid there is no choice. The doctor speaks very plain words about it. Besides, I am bound to go home."

"To sell the simlacine?" inquired Maurice.

"Yes."

"Have you the second crop with you?"

"Yes."

"And the trees have improved under cultivation?"

"Yes," answered Jack rather wonderingly. "You seem to know a lot about it."

"Of course I do," replied Maurice bolsterously.

"From Durmovo?"

"Yes; he even offered to take me into partnership."

Jack turned on him in a flash.

"Did he indeed? On what conditions?"

"And then, when it was, too late, Maurice saw his mistake. It was not the first time that the exuberance of his nature had got him into a difficulty."

"Oh, I don't know," he replied vaguely. "It's a long story. I'll tell you about it some day."

Jack would have left it there for the moment. Maurice Gordon had made his meaning quite clear by glancing significantly toward his sister. Her presence had intimidated debarred further explanation.

But Jocelyn would not have it thus. She shrewdly suspected the nature of the bargain proposed by Durmovo, and a sudden desire possessed her to have it all out.

"If you mean," she said, "that you cannot tell Mr. Meredith because I am here, you need not hesitate on that account."

Maurice laughed awkwardly and muttered something about matters of business. He was not good at this sort of thing. Besides, there was the initial handclapping knowledge that Jocelyn was so much cleverer than himself.

"Whether it is a matter of business or not," she cried, with glittering eyes, "I want you to tell Mr. Meredith now. He has a right to know. Tell him upon what condition Mr. Durmovo proposed to admit you into the simlacine."

Maurice still hesitated, bewildered at

"Did he indeed? On what conditions?"

Jocelyn was determined; that further delay would only make the matter worse.

"If your sister wants it," he said, "you had better tell me. I am not the sort of man to act rashly on the impulse of the moment."

"Still Maurice tried to find some means of evasion.

"Then," cried Jocelyn, with flaming cheeks, "I will tell you. You were to be admitted into the simlacine scheme by Mr. Durmovo if you could persuade or force me to marry him."

None of them had foreseen this. It had come about so strangely, and yet so easily, in the midst of their first efforts.

"Yes," admitted Maurice, "that was it."

"And what answer did you give?" asked Jocelyn.

"Oh, I told him to go and hang himself—or words to that effect," was the reply, delivered with a deprecating laugh.

"Was that your final answer?" pursued Jocelyn, inexorable. Her persistence surprised Jack. Perhaps it surprised herself.

"Yes, I think so."

"Are you sure?"

"Well, he cut up rough and threatened to make things disagreeable; so I think I said that it was no good, his asking me to do anything in the matter, as I didn't know your feelings."

"Well, you can tell him," cried Jocelyn hotly, "that never, under any circumstances whatever, would I dream even of the possibility of marrying him."

"And she was gone."

S.S.S. OUR PHYSICIANS

While we have the utmost confidence in the curative powers of S. S. S. in all blood troubles, yet we realize that in some cases causes unknown to the patient often hinder the best effects of the medicine. For this reason we have maintained for many years a branch to our business, known as "Our Consultation Department." This department is composed of regularly graduated and licensed physicians who have made blood and skin diseases their special study, and who are employed solely to advise and help, without charge, those who use S. S. S. Thousands of people have been cured of blood and skin diseases of every kind by the use of S. S. S., and many of those who, perhaps, at first did not find the results entirely satisfactory, wrote our physicians a full statement of their case, and a little advice hastened the cure. We have nothing to sell you, and the only reason for wanting you to write to us is that we may use every effort to see that you get the best result from the medicine. You can then help us by advising your friends to use S. S. S., which you will know from experience is all we claim for it. You can write with the assurance that all correspondence is held in strictest confidence, and that our physicians will give you helpful advice without charge.

The Proof of Your Bargain is in the Wearing Extraordinary Sale of Men's Fall Suits at $10, $12 and $15

Extraordinary for several reasons—because we'll fit any man, be he stout or lean, tall or short—because every suit is a new fall model, single or double breasted—because the all-around prices are at least one-fourth less than these suits are worth. We could print reams of matter pertaining to the quality of these $10, $12 and $15 Suits, but what's the use? The only way you can convince yourself of the truth of our statements is to come and see them; buy a suit and wear it. Those that wear the "REHBERG" clothes know their worth best. They see what others pay for their clothes—they can mentally note the way all clothes wear, and they realize best just what they get for their money. They are made of high class worsteds in checks, plaids and stripes; also blues, blacks and grays—collars that are snug and close and actually fit around the neck; full shoulders, coats correct length—these are the kind of suits we're asking you to take your pick of at $10, $12 and $15.

Like a Made-to-Measure Suit are our Handsome Suits at $18, $20 and $22. The fit, materials, workmanship and styles are right. Our Cravenette Top Coats are going at $10, $12 and $15. The handiest garment you ever saw. Just the thing for a cool evening or a rainy day. Keep their shape, look dressy and you'll find a use for it during the entire year. Our entire stock priced at $10, $12 and $15.
